Name: _____

WFU ID#: _____ Date: _____

A student may take certain upper-level, non-required courses on a pass/fail basis. A student may not take more than three hours of course work on a pass/fail basis in any one semester. A student may not take more than seven hours of course work on a pass/fail basis during his or her law school career.

No more than seven hours of ungraded credit (including credit for courses taken on a pass/fail basis and credit for ungraded activities such as law review or moot court) can count toward the 89 hours required for graduation. Additional credits may be earned on a pass/fail basis as long as an equal number of credits have been successfully completed above and beyond the 89 initial hours required for graduation.

If a student is enrolled in the JD/MBA program, no more than four hours of ungraded credit earned at the law school may count toward the number of law school hours necessary for graduation in that program. If a student transfers to Wake Forest University from another law school, no more than a total of seven hours of pass/fail credit in upper level courses earned at either school may count toward the minimum hours necessary for graduation.

A student who is registered for a course in which a pass/fail option is available may not change from the pass/fail to the grade option or vice versa during the final two weeks of the semester.

I request that the grade type of the course noted below be changed as follows:
